

The FCC rules should not be changed. It is obvious that the current rules have already resulted in a consolidation of the media whose bias has convinced most of the American public that Iraq was responsible for 9/11 when the facts are to the contrary.